

High Temperatures Today

What To Expect

Independence Day, an isolated shower is possible today, otherwise dry with temperatures in the upper 70s to mid 80s. Cooler at the shore.

Unsettled conditions arrive Friday through Saturday as low pressure passes to the northwest.

- ✓ Scattered showers develop across the interior Friday
- ✓ More widespread showers and thunderstorms Saturday may contain heavy downpours.

A break in the dreary conditions Monday, before another chance of rain into midweek.
